WELCOME TO AUSTRALIA'S IDW 2019

Dear Exhibitors

I am pleased to open show entries for Australia's International Dairy Week 2019.

Whilst challenges in our world continue it is our privilege to run an event such as Australia's International Dairy Week. I feel that the social importance of this event is one that cannot be under-estimated and first and foremost we at IDW look forward to creating a week where you can catch up with old friends and make new ones.

As in previous years, there will be a full week of activities and I hope you will join with us in showcasing the best in Australian dairy cattle.

IDW showcases the Australian dairy industry and so we again welcome and thank Semex, Ruralco Holdings and The Greater City of Shepparton as naming right sponsors of the week.

The ABS Australia/Ridley National All Breeds Youth Show continues to be a wonderful opportunity for youth to enter the showing world. We ask all Exhibitors for their support in providing our youth with animals to lead.

Australia's National Illawarra, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Ayrshire, Jersey and Holstein Shows will be held from Tuesday through to Thursday and we have a panel of Australian and International experts to judge the tremendous cattle that breeders work hard to present at IDW. For more information about our Judges please visit www.internationaldairyweek.com.au.

Feature Show for 2019:

I am pleased to confirm that the IDW Feature Breed for 2019 will be the Guernseys and our focus is to ensure this is a marvellous show for all involved. We particularly encourage and welcome new exhibitors to the ring.

Changes to Show Classes for 2019:

There are a number of changes to show classes across all Breeds so I encourage you to print out the new schedules in this booklet and have with you whilst entering. As a quick summary:

- A Senior 3 in Milk Class has been added to the Intermediate Section of the Illawarra, Brown Swiss, Guernsey and Ayrshire Shows.
- Classes in the National Jersey Show have been aligned to the same as the Holstein Show.
- The Red & White Holsteins will compete in their own Championship Classes during Australia's National Holstein Show.

Other Events During IDW:

The farm and machinery field days will be held from Tuesday through to Thursday and I ask that you encourage all fellow dairy farmers to visit this spectacular display of commercial products and technology. We will also be holding the virtual farm tours again on Tuesday evening as well as hosting the Power of Women in Dairy function on Tuesday. Some wonderful sale catalogues are being prepared and for those wishing to add to their herds there will be opportunity to purchase at these sales. Finally, but not least, a wide range of informative seminars will be on offer for you to attend during the week.

Keep Up To Date:

IDW will be sending out regular e-newsletters so please make sure we have your email address so that you can keep updated with news and event requirements. We are also using social media quite frequently so like us on Facebook.

I hope that you will take the opportunity of entering your cattle in a show at Australia's IDW 2019 and I look forward to seeing you during this tremendous week.

Kind Regards

A handwritten signature in blue ink.

At least two of these four will make the initial determination as to whether the conduct is unethical and if any disciplinary action is necessary.

4.4 Testing and Detection Methods

The primary principle of testing is that the animals placed first and second in each class plus a randomly selected animal will be scanned and tested in accordance with this section of the COE. This means that the animals placed first and second can be tested after their champion class with the exception of Champion and Reserve which are tested after the Supreme class.

4.4.1 Random testing

Random selection of animals for testing should be conducted at all shows. All in-milk animals entered in the show or event are eligible to be randomly selected for testing. The principle to be used for random testing shall be that one random animal is selected for each in-milk class. These random animals can be selected by one of two ways: (a) Animals can be drawn from the entry numbers issued to all exhibiting animals by class; or (b) For each class, a placing can be drawn, not including 1st and 2nd which are tested in any case. In all cases, the animals entry numbers should be randomly chosen by show management in accordance with section 4.4.1 herein by a method determined by the ADBSRC prior to the show commencing and kept confidential in a sealed envelope; one for each class. The envelopes shall remain in a secure place as determined by the SEC or a steward nominated by the SEC.

4.4.2 Judges call for testing

Judges shall have the option to call for an animal to be tested if they suspect the animal has been prepared and presented in a manner that contravenes this COE. The judge shall make the request confidentially to a member of the SEC or a steward nominated by the SEC and not directly to the exhibitor. If the SEC agrees with the judge that a violation may have occurred the animal shall be tested.

4.4.3 Ultrasound

Each Royal and State show is encouraged to use the services of an ultrasound machine and trained technician to detect the unethical manipulation of the udder. Exhibits required for scanning are to be presented in-milk and not milked out. Exhibitors wishing to ultra sound their animals prior to exhibition may do so at their own expense before entering the show ring. Exhibitors should proceed to the Ultrasound site to arrange a time that is suitable to the ultrasound testing team. Results of the ultrasound will be kept confidential and will not affect exhibition status.

4.4.4 Milk and blood tests

Each Royal and State show is encouraged to test both blood and milk samples of the first two placegetters in each class plus each animal in a spot (to be decided with each judge). The procedures for blood and milk sample taking and testing including the chain of custody can be gained from IDW.

4.5 Penalties

If a violation of the COE has been proven to have occurred and the proper enforcement procedure has been followed, penalties against the exhibitor can be enforced and may include any one, or combination, of the following:

- (a) forfeiture or return of awards, prizes, premiums or proceeds;

EXPLANATORY NOTES – DAIRY BJD ASSURANCE SCORE

PART A – HERD SCORE

Johne's disease Market Assurance Program (MAP)

MN1 to MN3 are Monitored Negative statuses in the Australian Johne's Disease Market Assurance Program for Cattle (CattleMAP). The herd's approved veterinarian issues a herd status certificate that is valid for 12 months.

Herd Tested Negative

Check tested, Tested 4 Year Old and Tested to MAP Standard are statuses allocated to eligible herds that have had a negative test by an approved veterinarian. A Check Test can only be conducted on an established herd that is not infected or suspect for BJD. A herd that has introduced cattle with a Base Score (Part A) of 1-6 is ineligible for a check tested status. In eligible dairy herds a Check test can be conducted by sampling the faeces from the concrete yard/standing area prior to wash down or by sampling (blood or faeces) 50 adult cattle (2 years of age and older) in the herd that are most likely to be infected. A Check test status can be maintained by testing every 12 months. Tested 4 Year Old and Tested to MAP Standard are tests of all or up to 300 of the cattle over 4 years old and 2 years old respectively in the previous 24 months, and these statuses can be maintained by a Check Test every 24 months. The date of test is the date samples are collected.

Approved BJD control programs

An approved BJD control program is approved by the State or Territory animal health authority for an infected herd. The authority allocates the herd status to reflect the stage of the herd's progress.

To attain and retain a status of High Prevalence, Moderate Prevalence or Low Prevalence, a herd would also have to implement a disease program comprising at least:

- Individual animal identification
- 3-step calf rearing plan
- immediate culling of clinical cases
- herd retest at a maximum interval of 2 years to maintain or progress status
- culling priority for reactors and other high risk animals at the end of lactation
- introductions of same or higher assurance score

High Prevalence herds have more than 4% (4 years and older) test positive by ELISA or have not been tested and Moderate Prevalence herds have equal to or less than 4% test positive by ELISA. A Low Prevalence herd has 2% or less ELISA positives among cattle that are 4 years and older (or 1.5% or less in cattle 2 years and older).

Restricted 1 and Restricted 2 are statuses for infected herds that have had one and two consecutive negative herd tests respectively in an official control program, as per the Standard Definitions Rules and Guidelines for BJD

Approved calf rearing programs

Young animals are most susceptible to becoming infected with BJD. The risk of calves becoming infected can be lowered by reducing their exposure to infected cattle and contaminated environments on the farm.

The JD Calf Accreditation Program (JDCAP) is a voluntary comprehensive audited program that has been implemented on some dairy farms in Victoria and is a compulsory part of participation in the Victorian Test and Control Program from 2003 onwards.

The Three Step Calf Plan is a voluntary calf rearing program that can be included in dairy factory audited on-farm QA programs. The following three steps are management practices that minimise the risk of spread of BJD infection in cattle under 12 months:

- Calves should be taken off the cow within 12 hours of birth.
- Management of the calf rearing area should ensure that no effluent from animals of susceptible species comes into contact with the calf.
- Calves up to 12 months should not be reared on pastures that have had adult stock that are known to carry BJD on them during the last 12 months.

Infected and suspect herd

The herd is classified by the animal health authority as infected or suspect and has not been tested to achieve a status under sections above.

Non-assessed herds

Herds that are not known or suspected to be infected, and have not qualified for one of the above statuses by testing, are classified as Non-Assessed. The risk that they are infected may be determined by their location. If you are unsure of your Zone/Area, please contact your local state government animal health office.

Dairy herds in the Beef Protected Area or Management Area that have not been tested or implemented an auditable hygienic calf rearing program have a Herd Base Score of 0.

PART B – CALF CREDITS

Approved calf rearing programs

Only calves that have been reared under JDCAP or the Three Step Calf Plan are eligible for calf credits. Individual calves that are classified in an approved BJD control program as having a high risk of being infected are not eligible for calf credits.

PART C – TOTAL SCORE FOR CATTLE

Scores for individual animals are calculated by adding the Herd Base Score from Part A and any eligible calf credits from Part B. Calves reared under JDCAP can attain a maximum of Score 7 which is maintained for life eg. base Score 4+3 JDCAP credit points. The animals must have been reared under the JDCAP program for 12 months-although this may not necessarily have been continuous on the same property.
